

Happy Art Hour

BioEASI has partnered with the Society of Research Fellows (SRF) from the Salk Institute to host the first Happy Art Hour where scientist will have a chance to learn some art basics and create some on the spot. This event is currently only for Salk members.

During the event people will have the opportunity to showcase their creative side by creating new art with materials provided and they will also have a chance to optionally bring art pieces or images to display and share. There will be two professional artists to help guide people as well.

Come out and try your hand at painting /creating your very own Science Art

Art supplies will be provided but please bring your own if you can.

Watercolor Painting!
Acrylic painting!
Charcoal or Pen sketching!
Finger painting!

Date and Location: August 8th at 4pm at the Eucalyptus Grove

